Lee Thomas- Patience Paying Off

Dismantle.

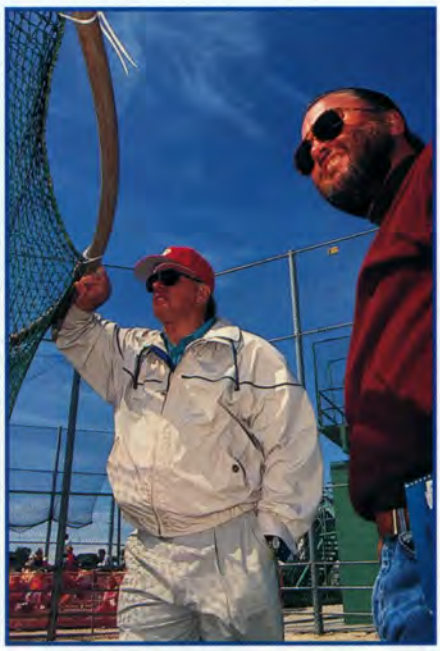
That was the first priority of business when Lee Thomas, the St. Louis Cardinals' Director of Player Development, took over as the Phillies General Manager back on June 21, 1988.

He inherited a big league club which needed an overhaul and a minor league system which needed changes.



To be a General Manager, one has to have many qualities. Sure, you need to know the game, need to be able to judge players and people and you need to be willing to work long hours. Perhaps the two most important qualities are patience and a willingness to "roll the dice."

Thomas has both these qualities. Less than a month on the job, Thomas swung his first trade, sending infielder Luis Aguayo to the New York Yankees for minor league pitcher Amalio Carreno. Carreno never developed but it set a pattern for future Thomas' trades, getting good young arms.

Less than a year later, Thomas really kicked it into gear, setting up the future of this club. First came a June 2 trade in which Chris James was sent to San Diego for first baseman-outfielder John Kruk and utility player Randy Ready.

Sixteen days later, he struck twice.

First, Terry Mulholland, Charlie Hayes and Dennis Cook came to the Phils from San Francisco for reliever Steve Bedrosian and infielder Rick Parker. Later that same day, Lenny Dykstra and Roger McDowell arrived. Departing to the New York Mets was Juan Samuel.

The upward swing for the Phillies was under way.

Along the way, Thomas hired and relieved a farm director and a scouting director, recognizing the men in the new positions weren't producing. Thomas knew the importance of a farm system and had a long-range goal to build a system which would send players to the big leagues. He admits it has progressed more slowly than he had expected.

But, his magic wand produced more key players through trades, Tommy Greene, Wes Chamberlain, Mitch Williams, Curt Schilling, Ben Rivera, Danny Jackson and David West.

Players were drafted at the winter meetings. Outfielder Sil Campusano flunked, but Dave Hollins and Todd Pratt passed.

Along the way were free agent signings, Danny Cox, Wally Backman, Mariano Duncan and last year's big four, Pete Incaviglia, Milt Thompson, Larry Andersen and Jim Eisenreich.

The farm system turned out only Mickey Morandini until Thomas reached into the minors last July to plug a shortstop hole. Up came Kevin Stocker, a player on which Thomas was willing to take a gamble.

Only one player from the team Thomas inherited survived, Darren Daulton. Daulton batted .208 in an injury-curtailed 1988 season and .201 the following season. But Thomas believed in Daulton and his patience paid off with All-Star seasons for the catcher in 1992 and 1993. During spring training two years ago, Thomas felt Daulton would develop into a very productive catcher, the best in the league.

Five years after he accepted Bill Giles' offer to be the GM, his bag of retreads and rejects dumped the underdog labels and went to the sixth game of the World Series before losing to the defending World Champion Toronto Blue Jays.

Thomas was named the Major League Executive of the Year by THE SPORTING NEWS, only the second Phillies front office person to win the prestigious award. President R. R. M. (Bob) Carpenter, Jr. was the other winner in 1949.

During this off-season, Thomas pulled the trigger on two more deals, picking up two pitchers for Mitch Williams and three players for Terry Mulholland. Willing to take a gamble to improve the bullpen, he signed Norm Charlton, who had elbow surgery during last season and who wasn't expected to be ready until the middle of the season.

The farm system is getting better each year. Players such as pitchers Ricky Bottalico, Tyler Green, Jeff Patterson and Mike Williams are coming. So is catcher Mike Lieberthal, first baseman Gene Schall and outfielder Phil Geisler.

Thomas' hard work, patience and a willingness to gamble have put the Phillies back on the winning track.

Jim Fregosi - Managing in the '90s

By Chris Wheeler

If you were to ask the average baseball fan to name the most important part of a manager's job, they probably would state the more obvious like telling players when to bunt, hit and run, when to take the pitcher out or when to pinch hit.

Talk to many baseball people about the same subject, and you'll get a much different point of view. Dealing with baseball played in the '90s is different. When these people describe a successful baseball manager, they tend to talk about his ability to handle the news media, massage the delicate egos of 25 different men all vying to make a lot of money or how to deal with the fans.

Ever since he came on the scene early in 1991 to replace Nick Leyva, Jim Fregosi has not only handled the parts of the game most visible to the fans, but also has taken charge of the behind the scene activities better than any manager ever to undertake this most difficult job in Philadelphia.

Fregosi is managing his third major league team, having led the California Angels for three full seasons (1978-80) and through 47 games of the 1981 season and the Chicago White Sox for 96 games in 1986, followed by the 1987 and '88 seasons.

So, it's no accident that, after experiencing the normal ups and downs of managing, he was more than ready to take the challenge of leading the Phillies in a baseball crazy town that ranks second to none when it comes to second guessing the manager.

Fregosi is a master at handling the super critical local news media. He gives them a steady dose of little or no comments when it comes to criticizing his players, while leaving little doubt where the player stands with him.

The players also can never say they don't know where they stand with this man. Fregosi is the boss in the Phillies clubhouse, a man with great presence who can play cards and be one of the guys, up to a point.

Everybody around this baseball team knows when they have stepped over the line, and few try it again.

The Phillies had a wonderful season in 1993, full of excitement and thrills that will be hard to duplicate.

Everyone has memories of that magical season, but one that will stay with me for a long time, was the sight of the Phillies mobbing each other following the final out of the Division clincher in Pittsburgh.

One man stood alone in the visiting dugout, watching like a proud parent, happy for this tremendous group of gritty competitors, many who were experiencing winning for the first time in their careers.

Only after they had a few minutes to themselves did the man very responsible for this moment walk slowly to the wild scene unfolding, a huge smile on his face and tears in his eyes.

And, to a man, his players turned to him and made him join their celebration.

The Philadelphia Phillies won a hard fought championship on the field, but Jim Fregosi had led them to the promised land. He was the right man for a city and team whose time had come.

CARLTON JOINS THE ELITE

"LEFTY"

Steve Carlton dominated National League hitters for some 22 years. When it came time for the Baseball Writers Association of America to vote for the Hall of Fame this January, he once again dominated.

"Lefty" pulled in 95.8 percent of the votes in becoming the 25th player overall to be elected on the first ballot. Only four others had a higher percentage, Tom Seaver (98.8), Ty Cobb (98.2), Hank Aaron (97.8) and Johnny Bench (96.4).

He becomes the third "true" Phillies pitcher to enter Cooperstown, joining right-handers Grover Alexander (1938) and Robin Roberts (1976). There are eight pitchers in the Hall of Fame who pitched for the Phillies, but Carlton, Alexander and Roberts earned their spurs in Philadelphia.

Carlton came to the Phillies 22 years ago in a controversial trade with St. Louis. Popular right-hander Rick Wise was dealt for Carlton the day before spring training started.

He quickly became "Super Steve" with an awesome season in 1972. He finished 27-10 and led the National League in earned run average (1.98) and strikeouts (310). His victory total represented 59 percent of the wins for the last-place Phils.

The 6-foot-5 southpaw was an easy Cy Young Award winner. In his 14-plus seasons wearing Phillies pinstripes, he won three other Cy Young Awards to become the only pitcher ever to win four such awards.

His other Cy Young years were 1977 (23-10), 1980 (24-9) and 1982 (23-11).

Not one for individual honors or acclaim, Carlton loaned his four Cy Young plaques to the Hall of Fame for the fans to see. This year, his own plaque will be added to the all-time greats of the game.

His numbers and records, when stacked on top of each other, would probably match his height.

Carlton is the N. L.'s all-time strikeout leader with 4,000; first in games started (677) and one-hitters this century (6), just to name three records.

After leaving the Phillies, Carlton also pitched for the San Francisco Giants, Chicago White Sox (for manager Jim Fregosi), Cleveland Indians and Minnesota Twins. He made his debut in 1965 with St. Louis and finished a brilliant career in 1988 with the Twins.

"Super Steve"

SIZING UP STEVE

Carlton is the 13th left-hander to be inducted into the Hall of Fame. Sizing up his numbers with the other southpaws:

| PITCHER | G | W-L | SHO | IP | BB | SO | ERA | HF YEAR |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Steve Carlton | 741 | 329-244 | 55 | 5216 | 1833 | 4136 | 3.22 | 1994 |
| Eddie Plank | 581 | 305-181 | 69 | 4234 | 984 | 2112 | 2.34 | 1946 |
| Rube Waddell | 407 | 191-142 | 50 | 2958 | 771 | 2310 | 2.16 | 1946 |
| Lefty Grove | 616 | 300-141 | 35 | 3940 | 1187 | 2266 | 3.06 | 1947 |
| Carl Hubbell | 535 | 253-154 | 36 | 3461 | 725 | 1677 | 2.98 | 1947 |
| Herb Pennock | 617 | 240-162 | 35 | 3572 | 916 | 1227 | 3.54 | 1948 |
| Eppa Rixey | 692 | 266-251 | 39 | 4494 | 1082 | 1350 | 3.15 | 1963 |
| Rube Marquard | 536 | 201-177 | 30 | 3307 | 858 | 1593 | 3.13 | 1971 |
| Lefty Gomez | 368 | 189-102 | 28 | 2503 | 1095 | 1468 | 3.34 | 1972 |
| Sandy Koufax | 397 | 165-87 | 40 | 2325 | 817 | 2396 | 2.76 | 1972 |
| Warren Spahn | 750 | 363-245 | 63 | 5246 | 1434 | 2583 | 3.08 | 1973 |
| Whitey Ford | 498 | 236-106 | 45 | 3171 | 1086 | 1956 | 2.74 | 1974 |
| Hal Newhouser | 488 | 207-150 | 33 | 2993 | 1249 | 1796 | 3.05 | 1992 |

The following season he became the third Phillies player to have his number (32) retired. Robin Roberts (36) and Richie Ashburn (1) were the first two.

Steven Norman Carlton is the greatest pitcher in Philadelphia baseball history. Now, he's reached the highest honor awarded any baseball player by being enshrined in Cooperstown.

INDUCTION DAY

Steve Carlton will be inducted on July 31, the lone player to be elected by the BBWAA this year.

Ceremonies begin at 2:30 p.m. on the grounds of the Alfred Corning Clark Gymnasium on lower Susquehanna Avenue in Cooperstown. The ceremonies are open to the public at no charge.

The Enchanted Season

April 9, 1993.

Oh yes, it was the home opener for the Phillies. Both clubs combined for a stadium record-tying eight home runs as the Chicago Cubs hung on for an 11-7 win.

Oh yes, it was the Phillies first loss after three road wins in Houston.

But, the really significant news about that date wasn't revealed until the Phillies clinched the pennant in Pittsburgh on September 28. April 9 turned out to be the ONLY day in which the Phillies were not tied for or in first place the entire season.

It meant the Phillies had spent 181 days on top, a new National League record. Wow!

When spring training began, the Phillies were big underdogs. After all, they had finished last in 1992. After winning the division, they were underdogs to America's clean team, the Atlanta Braves.

After winning the N. L. pennant, they were once again underdogs to the defending World Champion Toronto Blue Jays. For once, the experts were correct as the Blue Jays won their second straight World Series, 4-2, on a Joe Carter home run, one of the most dramatic home runs in Series history.

A team not picked to finish high finished the baseball year on a down note in October in Toronto. When the dust had settled, this Phillies team had won 103 games, including post-season play, a club-high.

It truly was The Enchanted Season. Yes, the 1915 Phillies won a pennant, the 1950 team duplicated the feat, the 1980 bunch won the World Series and the 1983 "Wheeze Kids" made it to the World Series.

Yet, none of those teams captured the imagination and emotion of Phillies fans as did last year's bunch of characters. The media and fans had a ball describing the Phils—Broad Street Bellies, throwbacks, thugs, grubby, grunts, gypsies, tramps, thieves, non-conformists, ragamuffins. The list seemed endless.

The bottom line...this team had fun and won.

Some of their victories were mind-boggling....winning 9-8 over the Giants after trailing, 8-0 . . . game-saving defensive gems . . . games in which the starting pitchers were dominating . . . hair-raising saves by "The Wild Thing," Mitch Williams . . . a base hit by Mitch at 4:10 a.m. which earned a split in a 12-hour, rain-delayed twi-nighter . . . Lenny Dykstra's game-winning, 20th-inning double against the Dodgers five days later . . . a club-record eight grand slams, many of which were game-winners....just to single out a few.

Phillies fever caught on with the fans and Veterans Stadium turnstiles spun as never before.

For the first time in their 111-year history, the Phillies topped three million, finishing with 3,137,674. It was the 24th time in major league history a team reached that level.

Along the way, the Phillies played to 20 consecutive crowds over 40,000, another first for Philadelphia.

They also set a new road attendance record, 2,666,219.

Truly, 1993's Enchanted Season will never be forgotten for both the players and the fans.

What follows are month-by-month highlights of the season and game-by-game accounts of the 12 post-season games. Enjoy.

APRIL

Road to Victory

5 Phillies broke eight-year, opening-day losing streak, 3-1, in Houston. Mulholland four-hit Astros for his first opening day win in three attempts.

6 Win for Schilling and first save for Williams, the Wild Thing, as Astros fell again, 5-3. First time Phillies opened season with two wins since 1980.

7 Phillies began season with three consecutive wins for first time since 1970, 6-3, in Astrodome. Last time Phillies opened with three straight wins on the road, 1915, year of their first NL pennant.

9 Cubs and Phillies combined for eight homers to tie Vet record before 60,985, largest opening day crowd in Philadelphia. Cubs snapped Phillies three-game win streak, 11-7.

10 Williams struck out the side on 11 pitches in 5-4 win over Cubs.

11 Schilling turned in first complete game, 3-0, over Cubs as Phils improved to 5-1.

12 Dykstra's solo homer in the seventh was game-winner, 5-4, vs. Cubs. Williams' fourth save in four chances.

13 Greene won first start, 4-1, against Reds; Williams recorded fifth save. 7-1 start was best since 8-0 in 1915.

14 Phillies fifth straight win, 9-2 over Reds behind Rivera; first sweep of Cincinnati in Philadelphia since 1968 at Connie Mack Stadium.

16 First road game loss, 3-1, at Wrigley Field is followed by a 6-3 defeat the next day.

18 Another one of those wild Wrigley Field games. Kruk and Chamberlain hit two homers each but Cubs rallied with four in the bottom of the ninth to tie, 8-8. Hollins hit a three-run game-winner in the 11th for an 11-8 lead. Cubs rally fell one run short, 11-10. West picked up first save.

20 Kruk's solo homer with two out in the 14th edged the Padres, 4-3. Ayrault got the win.

21 Postponement is followed by a 2-1 setback the next day by the Padres.

23 Schilling struck out a career-high nine Dodgers in 2-0 shutout.

24 Jackson won first game, his first April victory since 1989, 7-3 over Los Angeles.

25 Incaviglia drove in three runs, Greene lowered league-leading ERA to 2.94 with 5-2 triumph and a three-game sweep of the Dodgers.

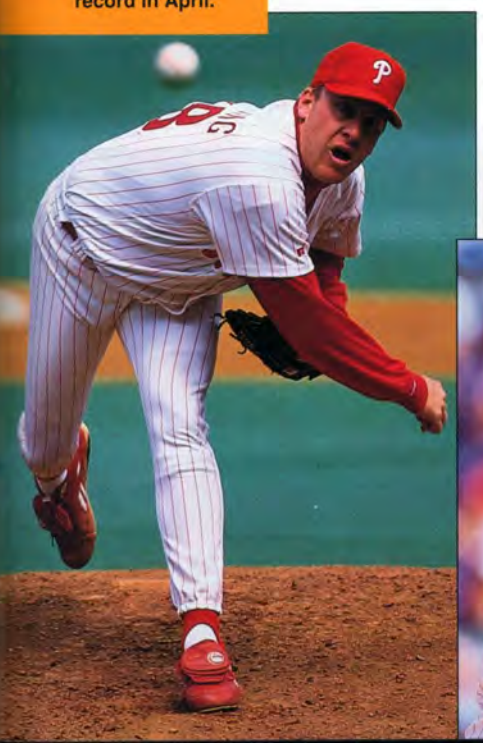
26 Trailing 8-0 after five and one-half innings, Phillies rallied for 9-8, 10-inning victory over Giants. 442 pitches were thrown in the four-hour, 33-minute game which included 14 walks and 13 strikeouts by Phillies pitchers. Eisenreich replaced injured Kruk at first base and collected three hits, two runs and two RBI. Phillies ten over .500 (14-4) for first time since end of 1986 season.

27 Jordan homered in first start but Padres won, 6-3, ending Phillies four-game win streak.

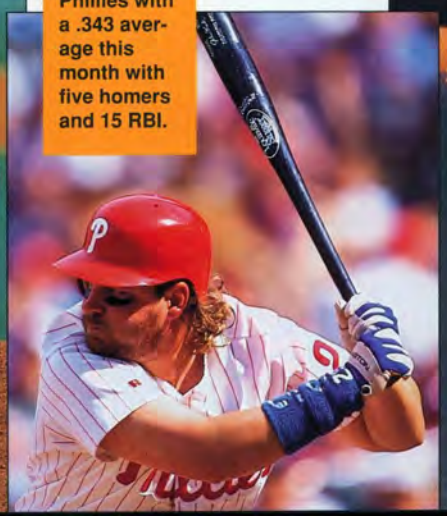
28 Schilling won fourth, the Wild Thing picked up eighth save in 5-3 decision in San Diego.

29 Thompson collected three hits and made an unbelievable game-saving catch of a potential grand slam to give Phillies their second straight win in San Diego, 5-3.

30 Morandini turned in outstanding defensive play with a diving catch of a line drive with the bases loaded and no outs in the ninth as Phillies hung on for a 7-6 win in Los Angeles. 17-5 April was the Phils' best ever. First time they were in first place on May 1 since 1964.



Curt Schilling led the staff with a 4-1 record in April.



John Kruk led the Phillies with a .343 average this month with five homers and 15 RBI.

Milt Thompson's incredible catch saved a win in San Diego.

Ricky Jordan got off to a .444 average during first month.

1 Phillies lost their first game on west coast trip, 5-1, in Los Angeles.

2 Mulholland broke personal three-game losing streak with 9-1 win over Dodgers. Six-run third inning chased Hershiser.

4 Hollins' two-run homer in 12th inning produced a 4-3 win in San Francisco. Win for Andersen; 11th save for Williams. Phillies perfect (5-0) in extra innings.

5 Phillies lost first game with Jackson starting, 11-2, in SF ending 5-2 west coast trip.

7 Hollins again hit two-run, game-winning homer in 4-3 decision over St. Louis in return to the Vet. Greene (3-0) with Williams' 12th save.

8 Mulholland pitched career-high 10 innings for second straight win, 2-1 vs. Cardinals.

9 Duncan belted game-winning grand slam off Smith in the eighth inning as the Phillies swept the Cardinals, 6-5. Last time they were 22-7 was 1913.

10 Daulton's grand slam and Jackson's strong outing gave the Phillies a 5-1 win over the Pirates. At 23-7 Phillies had the best record in the majors and best start in franchise history.

11 Pirates broke Phillies four-game win streak, 8-4, first loss for the bullpen.

12 After a 2:13 rain delay, the Phillies played their quickest game of the season, 2:02, a 4-1 victory vs. Pirates. Greene (4-0) recorded his first complete game since 9/20/91.

14 Phillies began a six-game road trip with a 10-7 loss in Atlanta.

15 Schilling threw a no-hitter for 5.2 innings, but got his third straight no-decision in 5-3 defeat in Atlanta.

16 Phillies salvaged a game in Atlanta, 5-4, preventing the first sweep against them this year. Jackson won his fourth game. Morandini got the game-winning RBI.

17 Phillies pounded out 17 hits in sinking the Marlins, 10-3, their first game against an expansion team. Florida left 17 men on base; Phillies had 12 LOB.

18 Greene blanked the Marlins, 6-0, and tied his career high with 10 strikeouts. Daulton hit 10th homer.

19 Marlins prevented being swept for the first time by defeating the Phillies, 5-3. Incaviglia hit a 440' two-run homer landing just under the upper deck in Joe Robbie Stadium's left field.

20 Schilling pitched his third complete game, 9-3, over the second-place Expos. Incaviglia hit his fifth career grand slam in the first inning and finished with five RBI. It was the Phillies 12th game-winning homer in 28 wins.

21 West allowed his first earned run since April 9 home opener vs. Cubs as Phillies lost, 6-2, to Expos.

22 Phillies protested 6-5 defeat, claiming the official lineup card had different changes than the Expos claimed. Protest later withdrawn.

23 Mulholland made his first start after missing one with an inflamed left foot and won 14-7 vs. Montreal. Dykstra hit a career-high three doubles.

24 Incaviglia belted two homers and Greene improved his record to 6-0 with a 6-3 triumph vs. Mets. Eventual winning run scored on Hollins' three-run homer in the fifth.

25 Schilling threw league-leading fourth complete game, 4-2 over the Mets. Phillies were 18 games above .500, 31-13.

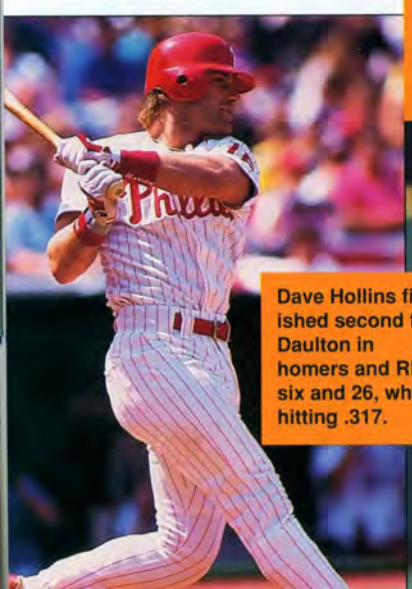
26 Jackson left with 4-1 lead after eight innings but bullpen faltered as Mets rallied for 5-4 win.

28 Hollins collected three doubles, Daulton drove in four runs as Phillies romped in Denver, 15-9; first game vs. Rockies.

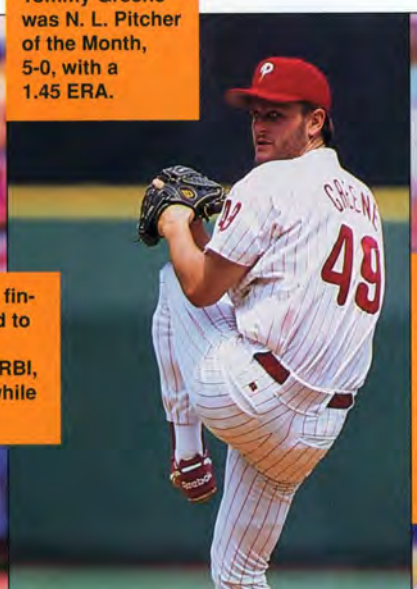
29 Mulholland, questionable because of his bad left foot, wound up pitching his first shutout this season, 6-0, in Colorado.

30 Greene pitched his fourth straight complete game and added his first home run as Phillies swept the Rockies, 18-1. Phillies hit six home runs, tying a club record.

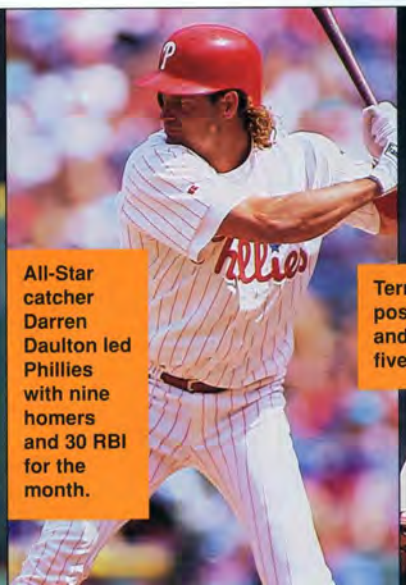
31 Phillies lost a wild one at Riverfront, 6-4. Podres, Daulton and Fregosi ejected for arguing balls and strikes. Later, Andersen is called for a controversial balk which helped set up a game-winning Cincinnati rally. Phillies headed into June in first place for first time since 1981, 34-15, seven games ahead of the Expos.



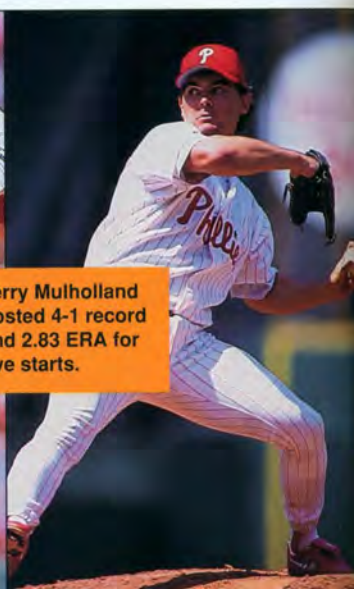
Dave Hollins finished second to Daulton in homers and RBI, six and 26, while hitting .317.



Tommy Greene was N. L. Pitcher of the Month, 5-0, with a 1.45 ERA.



All-Star catcher Darren Daulton led Phillies with nine homers and 30 RBI for the month.



Terry Mulholland posted 4-1 record and 2.83 ERA for five starts.

Road to Victory

1 Phillies defeated Reds in Cincinnati, 6-3, after losing a 3-1 lead in the seventh inning.

2 Road trip (5-1) ended with 5-2 win over the Reds. Rivera pitched eight innings and struck out a career-high nine for his fourth win. Williams picked up save #16.

4 Mulholland pitched a complete game and struck out a career-high 14, but lost, 2-1, to Rockies.

5 Greene improved to 8-0 with 6-2 win over Colorado, best Phillies start since Steve Carlton in 1982. Last five wins were complete games.

6 Daulton's three-run triple keyed a five-run first inning as the Phillies rolled over the Rockies, 11-7. Schilling picked up seventh win; Dykstra and Duncan had four hits each.

7 Jackson defeated Astros 7-5, leaving the game with a 3-1 lead in the seventh inning. Duncan hit two triples. 17th save for the Wild Thing.

8 Duncan extended hitting streak to 13 games but Astros won 6-3.

9 Phillies won rubber match of series, 8-0, as Mulholland pitched his second shutout of the season, striking out nine batters. Eisenreich fell a single shy of hitting for the cycle.

10 Greene's string of complete games ended as he exits in second inning, trailing 4-0. Down, 5-0, after five, Phillies rallied to win, 7-6, at Shea Stadium. Kruk had three hits; Incaviglia, three RBI. Expos trailed Phillies by 9½ games.

11 Batiste homered and drove in three runs as Hollins' replacement; Schilling won eighth in nine decisions, 5-2, in NY. Hollins, who left the previous game, faced surgery four days later to remove the hook of the hamate bone in his right hand. He was expected to miss four-six weeks.

12 Jackson pitched his first complete game since 7/14/89 and first shutout since 9/4/88, 3-0, over the Mets. Lead stayed at 10½ for second straight day.

13 Phillies swept four-game series in NY with a 5-3 decision. Second-place Cardinals trailed by 11½ games. Jordan and Incaviglia homered as Rivera picked up 5th win; 18th save for Williams.

14 Phillies extended winning streak to six straight, 10-3 at Montreal. Eisenreich hit second career grand slam.

15 Greene lost his first game of the season, 8-4, in Montreal, his first defeat to the Expos.

16 Phillies lost just their third series of the season, 4-3, in 10 innings. Dykstra tied it at 3-all with a two-out homer in the ninth but Expos won with an unearned run in the tenth; first extra inning loss for Phillies (7-1).

17 Phillies lost third straight, a 4-1 decision to the Marlins. Florida's Harvey recorded 18th save and extended his consecutive retired batters streak to 22.

18 Daulton drove in three runs as losing streak ended with 7-3 decision over Marlins. Kruk walked three times to take NL lead.

19 50,391 were on hand as 1983 Phillies returned in pregame Upper Deck Heroes Game. Dykstra had three hits, including 11th homer. Williams' 20th save saved Mulholland's ninth win, 5-2 over the Marlins.

20 Phillies climbed to 11-0 on Sundays, defeating the Marlins 4-3 on a three-run home run by Kruk. Season's second sellout (58,508) pushed series attendance to 185,679, largest four-game series in Vet history.

21 Dykstra's scoring streak stopped at 15 games, two shy of the modern NL record, in Phillies 8-1 loss to Braves. Manto made his Phillies debut at third in eighth inning.

22 Incaviglia's three-run homer surpassed his home run and RBI totals from 1991 and 1992 and gave the Phillies a 5-3 victory over the Braves. Cabrera hit the 38th home run into the left field upper deck.

23 A crowd of 57,237, largest ever for a Businessperson's Special, saw the Phillies defeat the Braves, 8-3, to win the series. Eisenreich extended his hitting streak to 13 games, tying his career high (1989) and the Phillies season high (Duncan).

25 Greene got off to rough start, allowing four runs in the first inning in Pittsburgh, but Phillies fought back to win 8-6. Williams earned save #23 and seventh straight (all in June).

26 Cooke threw the first complete game against the Phillies in Pirates' 4-2 victory.

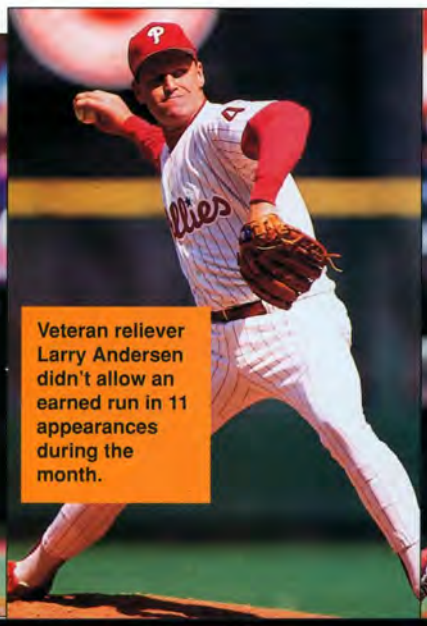
27 Perfect Sunday record (11-0) ended in Pittsburgh when Pirates scored two in the bottom of the ninth for a 4-3 win.

28 Hollins returned from the disabled list just two weeks after surgery. Phillies lost third straight for only second time, 3-1, to second-place Cardinals. Incaviglia hit monstrous home run into upper deck for Phillies lone run.

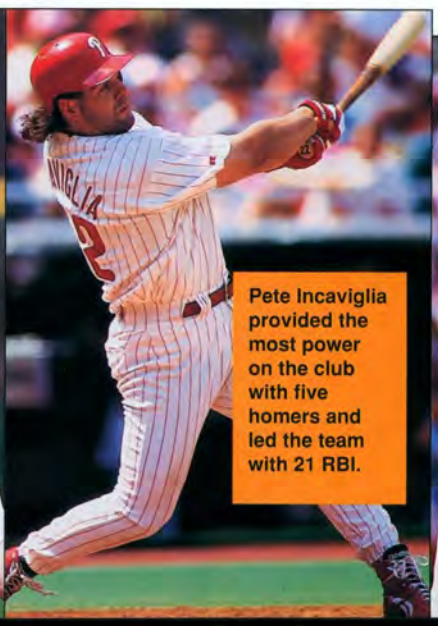
29 Phils scored six runs in the sixth en route to a 13-10 victory over the Cardinals. Dykstra, Thompson and Kruk each had three hits.

30 St. Louis narrowed the lead to 6 ½ games with a 9-3 triumph. Phillies (52-25) held first place on July 1 for first time since 1978.

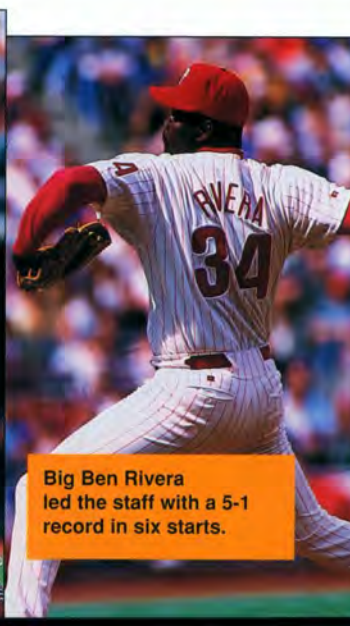
Jim Eisenreich followed a .371 month of May by hitting .351 in June; 18 RBI were second on the club.



Veteran reliever Larry Andersen didn't allow an earned run in 11 appearances during the month.



Pete Incaviglia provided the most power on the club with five homers and led the team with 21 RBI.



Big Ben Rivera led the staff with a 5-1 record in six starts.

JULY

Road to Victory

1 Cardinals embarrassed Phillies 14-5. Road trip ended, 2-5, with a 5½ game lead.

2 Mitch Williams singled at 4:40 a.m. to win the second game of a rain-delayed double-header with the Padres, 6-5. Three rain delays in game one (5-2 loss) totaled 5 hours, 54 minutes. DH was to start at 4:35 p.m. It ended 12 hours, 5 minutes later.

3 Padres defeated Phillies, 6-4; Andersen had a 12-game, 13.1-scoreless inning streak stopped with an unearned run in the ninth.

4 Dykstra collected three hits and scored three more runs as Phillies whipped Padres, 8-4. Thompson fell a home run short of hitting for the cycle as Rivera won his ninth game.

5 Dykstra scored three times again in 9-5 romp over Dodgers. Greene became first Phillies right-hander to win 10 games before the All-Star break since Jim Lonborg was 11-7 in 1977.

6 Dykstra hit his twelfth career lead-off home run, but Phils lost 7-5. After the game, the Phillies purchased shortstop Kevin Stocker from Scranton/Wilkes-Barre.

7 Dykstra's two-run double in the last of the 20th gave the Phillies another enchanted victory, 7-6, over the Dodgers. The game took six hours, 10 minutes to play and tied the Vet record for most innings.

8 Bonds hit two home runs and knocked in six runs, tying his career highs, leading Giants to a 13-2 victory over the tired Phillies. Bonds' 16 career homers at the Vet tied him for fifth place on the all-time list with Dave Kingman. The 20 hits by the Giants were the most against the Phillies since the Dodgers hit 22 on August 21, 1985 at the Vet (16 innings).

9 Giants belted 23 hits en route to 15-8 victory.

10 Morandini's first career grand slam and career-high five RBI powered the Phillies to an 8-3 victory over the Giants on CBS TV.

11 Phils lost first series at the Vet since the Astros swept them in September, 1992 with 10-2 loss to Giants.

13 All Star game in Baltimore's Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Mulholland started for the National League in his first appearance. Kruk and Daulton were also voted starters, and Hollins was selected to his first game.

15 Phillies started 11-game coast trip with 5-2 loss in San Diego.

16 Padres scored five runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Phillies 5-3. Daulton hit two homers for the third time this year and the seventh time in his career.

17 For the second straight game, Padres rallied with three in the seventh for a 4-2 victory. Loss was the fourth in a row for the Phillies, their longest losing streak of the season. Lead cut to 3 ½.

18 Schilling broke personal five-game losing streak and the Phillies four-game losing streak, 6-3, in San Diego. Williams earned save #24.

19 Bullpen came through in 7-5 win at Dodger Stadium. Mike Williams started for Rivera, who was injured in batting practice. Mason picked up the win, with shutout relief from West, Andersen and the Wild Thing. Lead stayed at 3 games for second straight day.

20 Jackson won 8th, 8-2 in Los Angeles as every position player, except Thompson, collected at least one hit.

21 Greene suffered a mild strain in his right groin preventing him from completing the 7-0 shutout of the Dodgers. Mason combined with Greene for the shutout. Dykstra reached the .300 mark for the first time.

22 Giants broke the Phillies four-game win streak with a 4-1 decision at Candlestick Park.

23 Bonds hit a game-tying home run in the bottom of the ninth off Schilling, 1-1. Pratt's sacrifice fly in the 14th produced a 2-1 win for West, who pitched three scoreless relief innings.

24 Duncan and Thompson homered but Matt Williams' three-run homer in the fifth provided the difference in a 5-4 Giants win.

25 Phillies ended west coast trip 5-6 with a 5-2 loss in San Francisco. It was only the fourth game in which the Phillies didn't get an extra base hit.

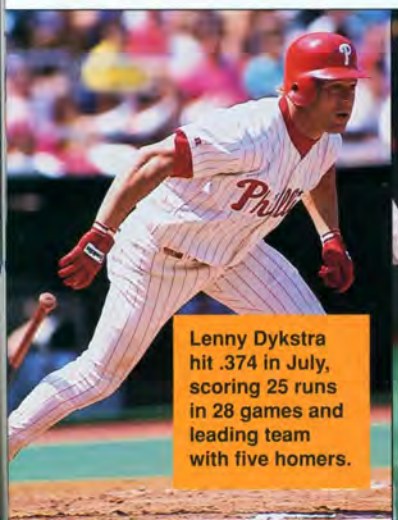
27 Kruk collected five hits for the second time this season as the Phillies returned home with a 10-7 romp over the Cardinals. Mason picked up second win.

28 Down 4-0 on Zeile's first-inning grand slam, Phillies came back to defeat Cardinals 14-6. Daulton had career-high six RBI and fifth career grand slam. Mulholland won tenth.

29 Phillies swept Cardinals at home for the second time this season, 6-4, to take a seven-game lead. Series drew 147,613, largest three-game series in Vet history. Daulton drew a bases-loaded walk to force in the game-winning run.

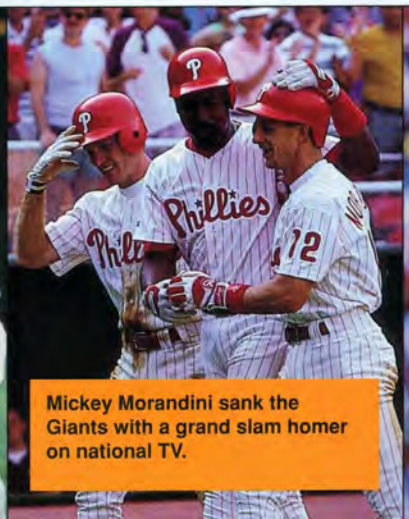
30 Morandini hit first career pinch home run but Phillies fell to Pirates, 4-2.

31 Incaviglia hit two homers, one into the 500-level (39th in Vet history to left field) as Jackson and Phillies overpowered the Pirates, 10-2. Phillies reached two million for first time since 1991 and second earliest day in club history . . . 14-14 record for the month is Phillies only non-winning month. Lead, which was 6 ½ games at the end of June, remained the same as July ended.

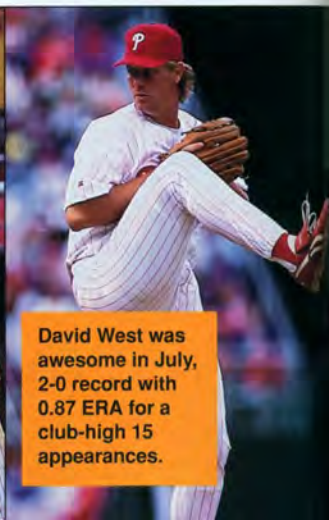


Lenny Dykstra hit .374 in July, scoring 25 runs in 28 games and leading team with five homers.

Mitch Williams is mobbed by jubilant teammates with his 4:40 a.m. game-winning hit which sent everyone home to bed.



Mickey Morandini sank the Giants with a grand slam homer on national TV.



David West was awesome in July, 2-0 record with 0.87 ERA for a club-high 15 appearances.

AUGUST

Road to Victory

1 Pratt's first career two-home run game powered Phillies to a 5-4 win over Pirates on Nostalgia Day when the team wore 1933-styled uniforms. Phillies averaged 48,314 in six-game home stand.

3 Incaviglia hit a three-run home run in the second inning, his fourth homer in three games, to boost the Phillies to a 5-3 victory in Atlanta.

4 Incaviglia hit his fifth home run in four straight games, but with the Phillies leading 8-6, Olson hit a three-run home run off West in the eighth inning for the 9-8 Braves victory.

5 The "Night the Lights Went Out in Georgia," the Phillies gave the Braves a 4-0 lead in the first inning. G. Maddux was 29-0 for his career when his team scored four or more runs. However, the Phillies came back to win, 10-4, as Dykstra scored three runs again. With the bases loaded and one out in the sixth inning, several banks of lights went out and the game was halted for fifteen minutes.

6 DeLeon started for Jackson (pulled rib cage muscle) and left with a 3-3 tie in the fifth inning. Marlins' Destrade hit the game-winning home run in the sixth, 4-3.

7 Daulton had his fourth two-home run game of the season and Phillies prevailed in ten innings, 8-7, before Florida's largest crowd, 44,689. In a strange ending, Sheffield was on second with one out when Arias lined a hit to left field. The ball hit Sheffield for out number two and Williams got the next batter to win his third game.

8 Marlins' Hough earned his first victory against the Phillies since May 7, 1976, 6-5. Incaviglia hit his sixth home run in five starts.

10 Phillies surpassed their 1992 win total (70) behind Schilling's complete game, 5-2. Before the game, the Phillies traded DeLeon to the White Sox for Thigpen.

11 Phillies went 30 games over .500 with the 6-5 decision over the Expos. Duncan's single scored Thompson with the winning run in the ninth inning.

12 Williams tied the club record for saves by a left-hander (31) as Mason won his fourth, 7-4. Greene started, his first since being disabled on July 28.

13 Batiste's first career grand slam capped a five-run ninth inning as the Phillies defeated the Mets, 9-5. It was the Phils' seventh slam and tied the club record done three other years.

14 Mets defeated the Phillies 9-5. Bogar was a last-minute replacement at second base for Kent and went four for five with four RBI and four runs scored.

15 Phillies came back late in the game for the second time in three games, to win 5-4. Schilling allowed four runs (two earned) in the first inning, then shut the Mets down through the seventh. Phillies won with four in the eighth; Batiste's single was game-winner.

17 The largest crowd to see the Phillies play this year, 63,193, saw the Phillies survive a couple late-inning rallies by the Rockies in Colorado to win 10-7. Dykstra hit 14th home run of the season, most by a Phillies centerfielder since Montanez hit 26 in 1971.

18 Phillies road attendance went over the two million mark. Kruk's second two-home run game of the season and Stocker's three RBI powered the Phillies to a 7-6 victory over the Rockies. Williams earned his 34th save, Thigpen his second Phillies victory. Phillies 33 games over .500.

19 Rockies scored five in the eighth for 6-5 win. Dykstra picked up 100th walk, first N. L. player to reach 100.

20 Stocker's clutch three-run triple lifted the Phillies to a 6-4 win in the Astrodome. Stocker worked a full count and fouled off four pitches before tripling to right-center. Phillies road attendance reached a new record, 2,092,963, breaking the old mark of 2,061,384 set in 1987.

21 A classic pitching duel between Drabek and Mulholland ended with a no-decision for both men as the Phillies tied the game at two with a run in the ninth inning. Houston scored a run in the tenth inning for a 3-2 victory.

22 Astros long ball put the Phillies away 7-3. Stocker played in his 33rd major league game and had two 10-game hitting streaks.

23 Phillies made history playing the Rockies' longest game in their short history, 4:03. Phils lost 3-2 in 13 innings on Bichette's homer.

24 Jackson won his tenth game, 4-2, and became the fifth Phillies starter to have double digit wins, first time since 1932. Williams saved #36, tying his career high and putting him alone in second place on the Phillies all-time list with 95.

25 Schilling tied his career-high with nine strikeouts en route to an 8-5 victory over the Rockies. Duncan's two RBI gave him 57 on the season, surpassing his career-high of 55 set in 1990 with the Reds. Pratt hit a two-run homer, his fifth homer in 26 games this season.

27 Phillies came back from a 4-1 deficit against the Reds with a four-run sixth, but Williams lost his 37th save in ninth inning, 8-5. Blown save broke a string of 13 successful save opportunities dating back to July 7.

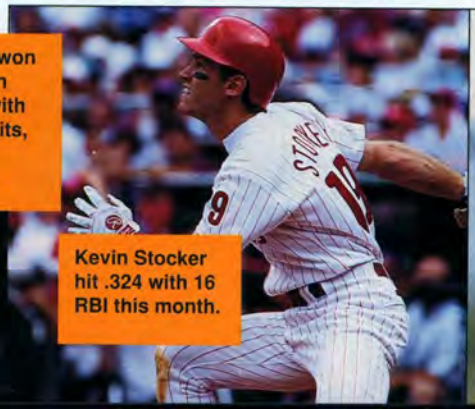
28 Incaviglia had his 11th career and third multiple-home run game of the season and Dykstra stole a base to set a new career high, 34, but the Reds pulled out a 9-5 victory.

29 Jackson struck out a season-high eight and combined with Mason on a six-hit shutout of the Reds, 12-0, in front of the Phillies fifth sellout of the season, 58,363. Big RBI producers: Chamberlain (4), Morandini (4, on two triples) and Jordan (2).

30 Wrigley Field. With the wind blowing out, Dykstra led off the game with a home run, his fourth of the season and 13th career lead-off homer. Kruk and Hollins hit back-to-back homers in the third inning. Phillies had a 6-3 lead, but did not score again after the wind stopped blowing and an hour rain delay. The Cubs won on a grand slam by Wilkins in the 11th inning. Longmire was recalled after the game; Mike Williams optioned to SWB.

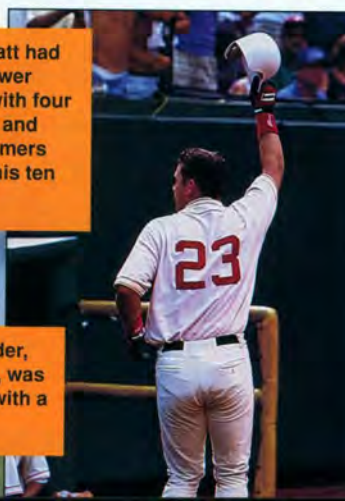
31 Rivera blanked Cubs on four singles and matched his career high with nine strikeouts, 7-0, in Chicago. It was the Phillies 16th win this month against ten losses. Phillies led Expos by 9 1/2 games. It marked first time in team history they led on the first of each month, May, June, July, August and September.

Kim Batiste won two games in three days with late-inning hits, including a grand slam.



Kevin Stocker hit .324 with 16 RBI this month.

Veteran lefthander, Danny Jackson, was 2-1 this month with a 1.35 ERA.



Todd Pratt had a big power month with four doubles and three homers among his ten hits.

SEPTEMBER

Road to Victory

1 Mulholland became third 12-game winner on the staff with a complete game, 4-1, decision in Wrigley Field.

3 Greene was the show as the Phillies sank the Reds, 14-2, in Cincinnati. He struck out a career-high 11 and homered in an eight-run fifth inning.

4 Phillies set a modern N. L. record by scoring in their 151st consecutive game, breaking a mark set by the Pirates in 1924-25. But, a four-run ninth-inning rally fell short, 6-4, in Cincinnati.

5 Phillies continued a season-long pattern of winning two out of three games with a 5-3 decision in Riverfront Stadium. Kruk walked for the 100th time, giving the Phillies three players with 100 or more walks, a first in the N. L.

8 Cubs defeated Phillies for third straight day. Expos won 12th in last 13 to move within 6 1/2 games.

9 Dykstra homered twice and drove in a career-high five runs and Daulton added four hits and three RBI as the Phillies built up a 9-2 lead and hung on for a 10-8 win over the Cubs. Idle Expos fell seven behind.

10 Incaviglia drove in three runs and Schilling pitched 8.1 strong innings as Phillies downed Astros, 6-2. Lead held at seven. Phillies set new attendance record, topping the old mark of 2,775,011 set in 1979.

11 Portugal and T. Jones combined to hold the Phillies to three singles as Astros prevailed, 4-1, cutting the lead to six games.

12 Homestand ended 2-5 with a 9-2 loss to Houston. First time all season Phillies went two straight games without getting an extra base hit. Expos continued blazing pace with 15th win in 16 games. Lead reduced to five games.

13 Greene pitched second shutout of the season, 6-0, vs. Mets in New York. Phillies picked up a half-game on idle Expos.

14 Three unearned runs in the sixth inning doomed Phillies as they dropped a 5-4 decision in Shea Stadium. Expos won 16th in last 17 and trailed by 4 1/2 games.

15 An RBI by Jordan, a pinch hitter, and two by Dykstra in the eighth inning gave the Phillies a 6-3 win in New York. Lead increased to 5 1/2 as Expos lost in St. Louis.

16 Expos won in St. Louis while Phillies were idle. Lead at five games, setting the stage for three-game showdown in Montreal.

17 Phillies seven-run sixth inning was started by Daulton's three-run homer but Expos came back to post an 8-7 win. Lead down to four games, the Phillies smallest margin since July 25.

18 Greene's 15th win and The Wild Thing's 39th save gave the Phillies a 5-4 squeaker in Montreal. Lead back to five.

19 Cordero's two-out, bases-loaded single in the ninth inning lifted the Expos to a 6-5 win. Duncan hit in 18th straight game. Expos trailed Phils by four.

20 While the Expos were idle, Schilling fanned a career-high 11 as the Phillies defeated the Marlins, 7-1. Duncan began three-day suspension for charging the mound earlier this month. Morandini played second base and collected three hits. Lead up to 4 1/2 games.

21 When the Phillies trailed the Marlins, 2-0, in the sixth, Dykstra doubled to start a two-run inning. With game tied, 3-3, in the seventh, Dykstra hit a two-run, game-winning homer. Win for Donn Pall; save for Williams. Expos were hammered by Braves, 18-5, and lead increased to 5 1/2 games.

22 Hollins drove in the winning run with a 12th inning single, 2-1 over Florida, the 17th win for the Phillies in their final at bat. Clutch relief pitching by Mason kept the lead at 5 1/2 games as Expos beat Braves.

23 Lead increased to six games and magic number reduced to 5 as idle Phillies watched Braves defeat Expos.

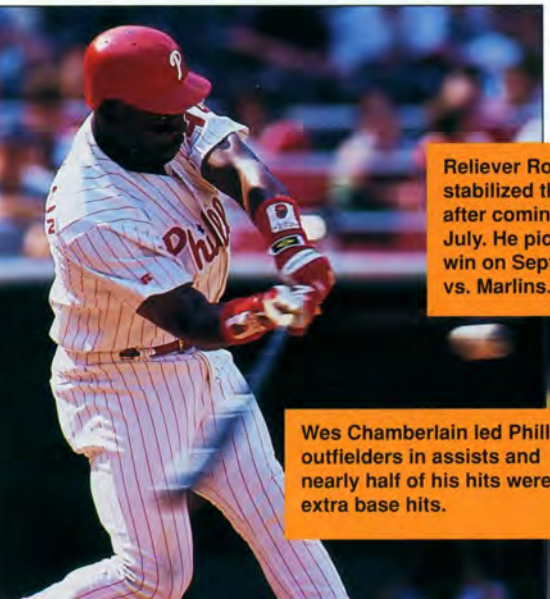
24 Greene (16-3) and The Wild Thing (club-record 41st save) combined to blank the Braves on three hits, 3-0, reducing the magic number to 4. Expos won in NY. Crowd of 57,792 pushed Phillies over 3 million for first time.

25 RBI pinch single by Chamberlain tied the score, 6-6, in the seventh but Braves came back with three in the eighth for a 9-7 win. Expos won in NY. Lead is five.

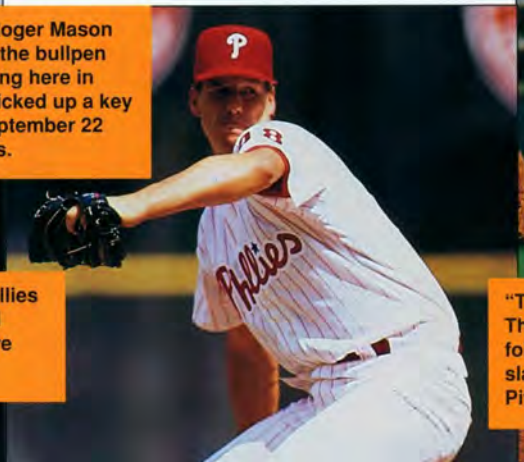
26 Atlanta's four-run seventh sank the Phillies, 7-2. Mets upset Expos so magic number was reduced to three. All three Atlanta games were sellouts (172,556 total, new Vet three-game record). Season attendance finished 3,137,674.

27 Hollins collected four hits and Williams picked up 42nd save in 6-4 win in Pittsburgh. Expos lost at Florida which reduced the magic number to one.

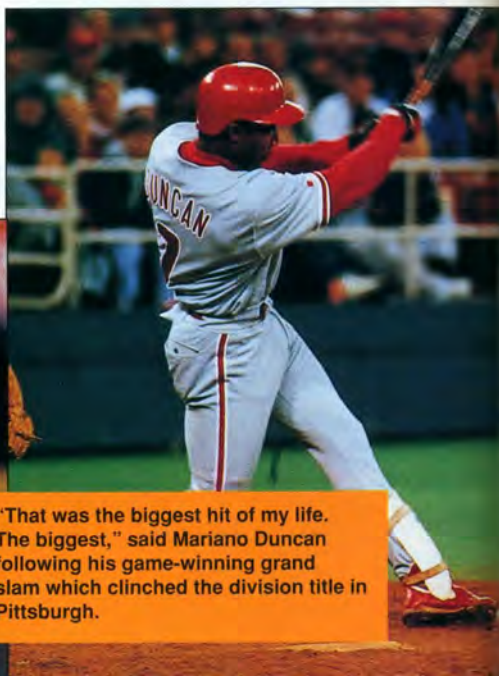
28 Using their formula for the year—a mixture of hits, the long ball and walks to equal runs and wins—the Phillies won their sixth Eastern Division title, 10-7, over the Pirates. Dykstra's 127th walk with the bases loaded gave them a 5-4 lead in the seventh. Duncan followed with the team's club-record eighth grand slam of the year (# 2 for Mariano). 18 hits were spread throughout the lineup with Dykstra setting the tone: 4 hits, 2 runs, 3 RBI. "It got sickening, watching everybody else celebrate," said Kruk in a champagne-splattered clubhouse. "You get jealous. You want it to be your turn. Now, finally, it is."



Wes Chamberlain led Phillies outfielders in assists and nearly half of his hits were extra base hits.



Reliever Roger Mason stabilized the bullpen after coming here in July. He picked up a key win on September 22 vs. Marlins.



"That was the biggest hit of my life. The biggest," said Mariano Duncan following his game-winning grand slam which clinched the division title in Pittsburgh.

League Championship Series Game 1

Wednesday, October 6, Veterans Stadium

If there was any doubt Phillies fans would be pumped for their first post-season game in 10 years, a pumped-up Curt Schilling put that doubt to rest with a record-setting NLCS performance.

He struck out the first five Atlanta batters, a new NLCS record, to get 62,012 buzzing. Schilling finished with 10 strike-outs, a new Phillies NLCS record, but not the victory.

After Schilling fanned the side in the first, the Phillies struck in their first at bat as Lenny Dykstra doubled, took third on Mariano Duncan's single and scored on an infield out by John Kruk.

Trailing, 2-1, Pete Incaviglia tied the game on a 423-foot bomb to straightaway center. A wild pitch scored Kruk with what appeared to be the game-winning run in the sixth.

"He (Batiste) was taking it real hard in the dugout. I went up to him and just told him, 'Hey, it's over with. Let's go. You're coming up. It's in our hands. Let's win it.'"

Milt Thompson

"I was just kind of in a state of shock. I was honestly glad they were running out to pick me up and celebrate with me instead of killing me."

Kim Batiste

"The fans were unbelievable. They were loud all night. I couldn't believe how much noise they were making."

Dave Hollins

Kim Batiste, Dave Hollins' defensive replacement, had one of the most dramatic and emotional turnarounds a player could experience in a game. His throwing error on a potential double-play opened the door for an unearned Atlanta run in the ninth which tied the game.

From that downer, he wound up riding the shoulders of his teammates when his 10th-inning single inside the third base bag scored Kruk with the winning run.

League Championship Series Game 2

Thursday, October 7, Veterans Stadium

This game was settled early.

The Braves posted two runs in the first inning on Fred McGriff's towering homer and put the game away with a six-spot in the third. Greg Maddux coasted to the win, allowing two runs in seven innings.

Atlanta belted four home runs in romping, 14-3, to tie the series at 1-1. The 14 runs set an NLCS record. The old mark? 13, two years ago against the Pirates. The club? The Braves.

All three of the Phillies runs came via homers. Dave Hollins hit a two-run homer in the fourth and Lenny Dykstra hit a solo job in the ninth.

McGriff's homer in the first was a tape-measure blast, traveling an estimated 438 feet. In Vet history, it was only the seventh home run hit into the upper deck in right field.

Fred McGriff

"The game was decided early when Crime Dog (McGriff) killed a family of four in the upper deck."
John Kruk

Jeff Blauser homered to start the six-run third and Damon Berryhill ended that inning with a three-run blast.

The Braves' fourth homer was a solo job in the fifth by Terry Pendleton. Ron Gant added two hits and drove in three runs.

League Championship Series Game 3

Saturday, October 9, Atlanta

Atlanta only scored in two innings but both were big innings, a five-run sixth and a four-run seventh which sank the Phillies, 9-4.

For the second straight game, Atlanta's starter won by allowing two runs in seven innings of work. Today it was Tommy Glavine. Terry Mulholland was tagged with the loss.

Mulholland had the Braves shut out, 2-0, through five innings when Atlanta erupted to the delight of the tomahawk chopping/chanting mob.

Back-to-back triples by Mariano Duncan and John Kruk made it 1-0 in the fourth. Kruk homered in the sixth and then the Braves came to life.

David Justice's two-run double (his first hit in the series) keyed the sixth-inning explosion and Mark Lemke's bases-clearing double highlighted the four-run outburst the next inning.

Tom Glavine held the Phillies to two runs, before the Braves bounced back to score nine runs in two innings for the win.

"Those two games are in the book. There's nothing that can be done about them. We'll be OK. It's like when you're a kid playing in the playground and you get your jeans all dirtied. You take them home, wash them, and the next day you go to the playground again."

"We have hit the dickens out the of ball the last two games."
Bobby Cox

"We're just not hitting on all cylinders, offensively. We're capable of scoring more runs but we're not doing the job with runners on base. Our pitching has been a little shaky. But our offense hasn't been too damn good, either."
John Kruk

Terry Pendleton drove in a run in each inning as the Braves took a 2-1 lead in the series.

League Championship Series Game 4

Sunday, October 10, Atlanta

Not much hope was given for the Phillies to survive. The Braves had piled up 23 runs in their last two games, the most ever for two straight post-season games. John Smoltz was on the mound for the Braves, unbeaten in five post-season decisions.

Veteran lefty Danny Jackson had the job of stopping the bleeding and keeping the Phillies afloat.

Jackson pitched brilliantly, allowing one run on nine hits in 7.2 innings. He walked two and struck out six. It was big-game pitching at its finest. Mitch Williams picked up a save as the Phillies hung on, 2-1, to even the series.

Jackson also helped with the bat. After Mark Lemke had doubled in a second-inning run, the Phillies posted two runs two innings later. Darren Daulton reached base on Lemke's error and took third on Milt Thompson's double. Kevin Stocker's sacrifice fly tied the game and Jackson followed with what proved to be the game-winning hit, a single.

"I was very focused out there and the media did it for me. A lot of guys never gave me a chance. They just wanted to bring up last year (four runs in 1.1 innings vs. Braves while pitching for Pirates). I knew exactly what I could do. I had some good games against these guys, too. But nobody wanted to talk about that. So I decided to just let my pitching do the talking."
Danny Jackson

"I knew when I hit the warning track that I still had two steps. I just concentrated on catching the ball and holding it."
Milt Thompson

Thompson was the defensive star of the game. He made an inning-ending, leaping catch of Lemke's deep drive in the eighth. Two runners were about to score if Thompson didn't make the fielding play of the series.

In a season filled with games for the memory bank, this was another one. The Phillies struck out 15 times, left 15 men on base and didn't score an earned run but thanks to Jackson's gutty pitching, they walked away with a very big victory.

Monday, October 11, Atlanta

Jim Fregosi calls Lenny Dykstra a red light player, "When the red light of the camera goes on, he turns it on."

The feisty centerfielder won the pivotal fifth game with a 10th-inning home run, 4-3, sending the series back to Philadelphia for the final two games. The Phillies needed one more win for their third pennant in 14 years.

The Phillies scored single runs in the first (John Kruk's RBI double), third (Wes Chamberlain's sacrifice fly) and ninth (Darren Daulton's home run) and appeared to be headed toward a Curt Schilling four-hit shutout.

Jeff Blauser began the ninth with a walk. Ron Gant followed with a grounder to Kim Batiste, a defensive replacement at third base. As he had done in game one, Batiste made an error. Three singles and a fly ball later sent the game into extra innings, 3-3.

"He (Dykstra) thrives on big games and packed houses, those times when everybody is staring at him and the game is on the line. He wants to be the man. He raises himself to some other level."
Pete Incaviglia

"I just like to play in these types of situations. To want to be out there in those games, you can't teach that. Some people want to be out there. Some people are scared out there. There's no fear here."
Lenny Dykstra

"I got Gant on a split finger and I think he was surprised because I had never thrown one to him before. In fact, I was surprised because I had never thrown one, period. Bubba (Daulton) called for it and I reached down and picked up my jaw and then threw it."
Larry Andersen

Mitch Williams, who came on with two runners on and no outs, gave up the three hits but his clutch pitching kept the Braves from winning in the ninth. With the winning run on third and one out, Williams struck out Mark Lemke and retired Bill Pecota on a fly to shallow center.

Dykstra caught the ball and then silenced the tomahawk chopping/chanting crowd with his game-winning, one-out homer to right-center off Mark Wohlers.

Larry Andersen saved the game with a perfect 10th inning, ending the game with a strikeout against Gant. Chamberlain tied an NLCS record with two assists, one which started a relay which gunned down Blauser at home plate in the first inning.

League Championship Series Game 6

Wednesday, October 13, Veterans Stadium

After a pair of gut-wrenching wins in Atlanta, the underdog Phillies returned to a delirious jam-packed Veterans Stadium for the kill.

Riding two-run hits by Darren Daulton (third-inning double), Dave Hollins (fifth-inning homer) and Mickey Morandini (sixth-inning triple), the Phillies sent the mighty Braves back to Atlanta, 6-3 losers.

Tommy Greene, who was rocked in game two, gained revenge with a three-run, five-hit, seven-inning outing. Mitch Williams picked up his second save with a one-two-three ninth inning. Utopia erupted at the Vet when The Wild Thing fanned Bill Pecota for the final out at 11:17 p.m.

Curt Schilling, who fanned 19 in 16 innings, was named the MVP.

"A half-hour after the conclusion of the game, the Phillies were running around the Vet, taking bows in front of the still-full stands and staggering from teary embrace to teary embrace," wrote Les Bowen in the Daily News.

The Enchanted Season in which the Phillies went from last to first was going to continue into the World Series.

"With their fans whooping the cry of the long-suffering, with baseball's most talented team reduced to stunned observers, with a passion that only true crusaders possess, the unkept, unshaven, often-maligned Phillies won the championship of the National League."

1993 WORLD SERIES

GAME ONE
Saturday, October 16, 1993
SKYDOME

The Phillies were relaxed but ready for the Toronto Blue Jays, fresh off their thrilling six-game upset over the favored Atlanta Braves in the NLCS two days before.

For the majority of the Phillies players and coaches, it was their first trip ever inside Toronto's wondrous home ballpark known as SkyDome.

However, the Phillies hitters wasted little time in adjusting to the new surroundings. As he had done all season long, Lenny Dykstra got the Phils off on the right foot when he walked to lead off the game, stole second base and then scored on a John Kruk single. Kruk also scored in the inning, coming in on a Darren Daulton single, to put the Phils on top, 2-0.

Phillies Game #1 starter and NLCS MVP Curt Schilling kept the Blue Jays off the scoreboard in the bottom of the first, but was touched up for two runs in the second inning which tied the score at 2-2. Kruk's second RBI-single in as many at-bats in the third inning put the Phils back on top, 3-2, only to have Toronto tie it up again at 3-3 in the bottom of the third when Milt Thompson and Dykstra's miscommunication on a fly ball led to an unearned run.

In the 5th, Mariano Duncan, who along with Kruk would collect three hits on the night, tripled and then scored on a wild pitch to regain the lead for the Phils, 4-3. However, for the third time in the game, Toronto would come back. Devon White's solo HR off Schilling in the fifth tied things up again at 4-4. Another solo HR off Schilling, this time by John Olerud in the sixth, would put the Blue Jays on top for good, 5-4 in what was an eventual 8-5 victory.

After just one game, both the Blue Jays and Phillies displayed the kind of offensive talent they possessed and gave a preview of what would be the highest-scoring six-game Fall Classic ever.

"I didn't do the job. We had the lead three times and I let them get back three times."
Curt Schilling

"We both called for it and I just missed it. With 50,000 people screaming . . . it's tough to hear anything. It's the first time that's happened all year."

"Now we face a guy (Dave Stewart) who is what, 90-0 in the playoffs? Shouldn't be that tough, should it? Maybe he's due for a loss."

GAME TWO

Sunday, October 17, 1993

SKYDOME

In a season full of pleasant surprises, Jim Eisenreich may have been the Phillies' most pleasant one. Time after time during the season, the quiet, 34-year-old veteran made big plays both in the field and at the plate. However, none were bigger than the blow he struck in this game.

After losing Game #1 the previous night, the Phillies needed a win on enemy territory. To complicate matters, they faced the imposing glare of Dave "Smoke" Stewart, whose career mark in the postseason was outstanding.

After two scoreless innings, the Phils touched up Stewart for two runs in the third on back-to-back RBI singles by John Kruk and Dave Hollins. After Darren Daulton grounded out, Eisenreich stepped to the plate and promptly drilled a Stewart pitch over the wall in deep right-center field for a huge three-run home run. Not only did Eisenreich's smash provide a 5-0 cushion, it seemed to instill confidence in a Phillies club, the majority of whom had never tasted World Series play.

As they would do for most of the 'Series, Toronto began to claw their way back into the game with the help of a two-run home run by Joe Carter in the fourth off Phillies starter Terry Mulholland. Another Toronto run in the sixth cut the lead to 5-3 and chased Mulholland from the game.

"He threw a high fastball over the plate. Eisenreich has had pretty good luck off Stewart. He just made a bad pitch and Eisenreich hit it out of the park."

Cito Gaston

"I wasn't trying to hit a home run. Because of the situation, I figured he might throw me a fastball. Fortunately I was able to drive it . . . Yeah, I'd have to say that was the biggest hit of my career."

Jim Eisenreich

"It's now a best-of-five series. We play well at home like they do. We got out of here with a split and that's what we wanted."

Jim Fregosi

The Phillies would extend that lead when the player known as "The Dude" came through once again in the clutch. While Eisenreich was an unsung contributor to the Phillies success in '93, Lenny Dykstra left an indelible mark with his outstanding play both in the regular and postseason. His solo home run in the seventh inning increased the Phillies lead to 6-3 in what would be an eventual 6-4 win. Mitch Williams hurled 1.2 scoreless innings to pick up the save.

The Phils got the win they wanted. Now, they returned to the familiar surroundings of Veterans Stadium tied at 1-1.

GAME THREE

Tuesday, October 19, 1993
VETERANS STADIUM

Rains greeted the Blue Jays and Phillies in the first World Series game at Veterans Stadium in 10 years. As a result, both clubs sat patiently in their clubhouses for 1:12 before finally starting at 9:24 p.m.

The Vet was new to most of the Blue Jays lineup, but that didn't seem to faze them as they tallied three runs in the first inning and never looked back, winning easily, 10-3.

The Phillies started lefthander Danny Jackson, which caused a stir as Blue Jays manager Cito Gaston decided to bench A.L. batting champion John Olerud, a lefty who hit .363 during the regular season, in favor of the right-handed hitting Paul Molitor, normally the designated hitter. All Molitor did was collect three hits, including a homer, triple and three RBI, putting to rest the possibility of any further controversy.

(On the 1:12 rain delay)
"That wasn't the problem I had in the first inning. I know when I'm ready. I was just too strong for some reason. I was overpowering the ball, but the delay had nothing to do with it."
Danny Jackson

"I think the weather was a factor. He (Jackson) didn't throw as hard today. He didn't have his best stuff. I think the weather was a factor."
Roberto Alomar

"Any time you give up three runs in the first inning, that's a big deficit. It hurt that we weren't able to also score in the first. When you come right back, it puts pressure on their pitcher. But, we weren't able to do that."
Darren Daulton

The only bright spots for the Phillies in this one were John Kruk and Mariano Duncan, who each collected two hits, and Milt Thompson, who also had two hits, including a home run, despite entering the game in the seventh as a defensive replacement.

GAME FOUR

Wednesday, October 20, 1993

VETERANS STADIUM

A crowd of 62,731 had gathered at Veterans Stadium for this game. But when it was over, 10 times that many will have said they were there, for this was truly one for the ages.

To say this was a slugfest would be an understatement. When the smoke had finally cleared, the two teams combined for 29 runs on 32 hits, 13 of which went for extra bases. The runs and hits were the most ever in a World Series game, as were the 54 total bases.

Trailing in the Series 2-1, the last thing the Phillies wanted to see happen was Toronto jumping out to an early lead again. But, that's exactly what happened as the Blue Jays struck for three runs in the first inning.

This time, however, the Phillies answered back quickly, striking for four runs of their own in the bottom of the first to go on top, 4-3. The ultimate catalyst, Lenny Dykstra, started the rally, drawing the first of four walks in the inning issued by Todd Stottlemyre. With one run in and the bases loaded with two outs, Milt Thompson struck the big blow of the inning with a base-clearing triple to the gap in left-center.

(On being down, 14-9)

"Honestly, I was beginning to think we would get them tomorrow. But...all through the game, we never lost our drive on the bench. From 1-8 in the batting order, we just pushed, pushed and pushed."

Devon White

"I can't describe the feeling. They just kept hitting balls all over the place. We let it get away."

Lenny Dykstra

"From me you'll get no whining, no crying, nothing. I just didn't get them out. I stunk. I can deal with that."

Mitch Williams

"This will go down in the annals as one of the all-time World Series games. It was unbelievable . . . Usually the team with the last at-bat wins games like these. We had the last at-bat, but we just didn't get the job done."

Jim Fregosi

A two-run home run by Dykstra upped the lead to 6-3. However, a three-run lead in this track meet was far from safe. Toronto retook the lead with a four-run third to go on top 7-6. The seesaw battle was in full swing.

In the fourth, an RBI-single by Mariano Duncan tied it at 7-7, and then in the fifth, the potent Phils offense exploded for five more runs to seemingly put things out of reach, 12-7. A two-run HR by Darren Daulton, an RBI-double by Thompson and another two-run home run by Dykstra, his second of the night and third of the Series, accounted for those runs.

Not surprisingly, the Blue Jays came back with two runs of their own in the sixth to cut the lead to 12-9. But, the Phils weren't done scoring either, plating single runs in the bottom of the sixth and seventh innings to make it 14-9.

Unfortunately, even a five-run lead was not safe on this night as fate was not kind to the home team. Toronto erupted for six runs in the now infamous eighth inning, tying a World Series record in the process and putting them on top for good, 15-14.

After the game, a feeling of emptiness was felt inside the Phillies clubhouse for they lost a game they once had in their grasp. Instead of being tied, 2-2, they now trailed, 3-1 with all of the momentum on the Blue Jays side.

It was now gut-check time for the '93 Phils.

GAME FIVE

Thursday, October 21, 1993

VETERANS STADIUM

Curt Schilling's first test in post season play came in Game #1 of the NLCS vs Atlanta. Schilling passed that test with flying colors with a record-setting performance in a 4-3 Phils win.

However, the test he faced in Game #5 of the Series was a stiffer one, for this was now life or death. A loss would mean the end of the incredible ride of a Phillies season. The hopes of his teammates and all of the Phillies faithful rode on Schilling's broad shoulders and the 6'4" righthander delivered in grand fashion.

Facing a Blue Jays offense that had tallied 15 runs on 18 hits the previous night, all Schilling did was hurl the first-ever shutout by a Phillie in World Series history with a 2-0 gem. In this masterful performance, Schilling gave up just five hits and allowed one base-runner to reach third all night.

"I talked to Johnny Podres after the seventh inning and asked him how many pitches he (Schilling) had thrown. I told him to let me know when he reaches 150-160. This was his game to win or lose.... He was marvelous."

Jim Fregosi

"We knew we had a chance with Schilling pitching because we knew he would give us all he had."

Milt Thompson

"Sometimes, good pitching stops good hitting. Schilling pitched a great game."

Cito Gaston

"This stuff is fun. We're in the World Series, you dream about stuff like this. This was my nine innings. I always feel if I don't throw nine, I didn't do my job."

Curt Schilling

Lenny Dykstra continued his fine World Series performance by leading off the game with a walk, stealing second and then scoring on a ground-out to give the Phils an early 1-0 cushion. In the second, a double by Kevin Stocker plated Darren Daulton to make it 2-0, and Schilling took it from there.

After their heartbreaking loss in Game #4, the resilient Phillies truly lived up to their "Phightin Phils" monicker by battling back to avoid elimination.

However, the uphill battle was far from over. Trailing now 3-2, they headed back into enemy territory in Toronto for Game #6 at SkyDome.

WORLD SERIES

GAME SIX

Saturday, October 23, 1993

SKYDOME

The start of the critical Game #6 must have seemed like deja vu to all of the Phillies faithful, for the third time in four games they trailed the Blue Jays 3-0 in the first inning.

In living up to their well-earned reputation as gamers, the Phils slowly clawed their way back once again. In the fourth, a Jim Eisenreich single plated Darren Daulton to cut the lead to 3-1. The Blue Jays answered back with a run of their own in the fifth to make it 4-1.

In the seventh, with two men on, Lenny Dykstra stepped to the plate and firmly stamped his name among the top World Series performers of all-time with a spectacular three-run HR to deep right field off Dave Stewart to tie it up at 4-4. But the Phils weren't done there. An RBI single by Dave Hollins and a sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Pete Incaviglia put the Phils on top, 6-4.

After surviving an 8th inning rally, the Phillies stood just three outs away from tying the Series.

Finally, it was the 9th inning and the Phillies stood poised with their closer, Mitch Williams on the mound. Williams set a club record with his 43 saves in '93 and added three more in the postseason, including the pennant-clinching Game #6 of the NLCS.

Protecting a 6-4 lead, Mitch Williams walked the leadoff man, Rickey Henderson. However, this was nothing new to the "Wild Thing," as he had done that dozens of times, it seemed, and had still managed to come out on top. A flyout and then a single to center by Paul Molitor suddenly put the tying run on first base with one out. Still, it was a situation Williams had pitched out of much more often than not.

Next up for Toronto, Joe Carter . . .

Fate had smiled on this popular Phillies team for most of '93. However, on this October night, fate was neither on Williams' nor the Phillies side. Moments after the ball left Carter's bat, headed for the left-field seats, Williams dropped his head and started his slow walk back to the Phillies dugout. He looked back over his shoulder once, but he and the rest of his Phillies teammates already knew the ball was gone and their wonderful season had finally come to an end.

Because of its excitement, record-setting run totals and dramatic ending, the Phillies had taken part in one of the most memorable Fall Classics ever. Unfortunately, the underdogs of the National League fell a little short in their spectacular season.

"This is a storybook finish. They haven't made the word yet to describe this feeling . . . You cannot believe this feeling."
Joe Carter

"I felt great coming into this game. There are no excuses. Don't come to my locker looking for excuses. I did not do the job."
Mitch Williams

"It's an empty feeling. This club has battled tough all year long. The finishing touch would have been to win it all. It's unfortunate but you have to give Toronto credit."
Jim Fregosi

"Looking over at Molitor, I saw that he had moisture in his eyes and that brought tears to mine."
Cito Gaston

"We fought hard. It was a good series. We had to fight hard to beat the Phillies."
Rickey Henderson

Phillies

Philadelphia Celebrates . . .

The Phillies clinched the division on September 28 and the city of Philadelphia joined the celebration.

From dressing up the city, including the capping of the William Penn statue atop City Hall, to honoring the National League Champion Phillies in November, the city of Philadelphia bonded with the 1993 Phillies unlike any other professional team.

BASEBALL'S 125TH ANNIVERSARY

Most historians agree that the game's basic rules were formulated in 1845 when a group of white collar workers and baseball enthusiasts from New York City formed the Knickerbockers, baseball's first organized team.

Led by Alexander Cartwright, the Knickerbockers introduced such rules as three strikes per out and three outs per inning. Nine-man teams, nine-inning games and bases set 90 feet apart were added a short time later.

The amateur game reached its peak in 1868 with 400 clubs in 18 states playing amateur league rules. Admission was charged as early as 1858 and some clubs secretly began to split gate receipts with their best players. Paying players violated league rules but the practice was common by the late 1860s.

Harry Wright, a former cricket player who went on to develop the knee-length style baseball uniform and the scorecard, was one of the covert professionals. In 1869, he shocked the baseball world by proclaiming that his Cincinnati Red Stockings team would be completely salaried.

Professional baseball was born.

The Red Stockings finished 60-0 that year. Their first loss came in the 25th game the following season.

This year professional baseball is celebrating its 125th anniversary. The specially-designed logo seen on this page will be featured throughout baseball during this special year. The Phillies will be wearing the logo on the right sleeve of their uniform jerseys to commemorate the anniversary.

Bringing You The Action...

The Phillies are bringing you more game action than ever before in 1994.

The new Baseball Network, a joint venture involving ABC, NBC and Major League Baseball, allows for regionalization of all baseball action prior to the World Series ... meaning more Phillies games in Philadelphia.

Al Michaels returns after a four-year absence to handle the play-by-play for ABC, while Bob Costas will lead the NBC broadcasts.

ESPN joins the bandwagon, scheduling the Phillies for three exclusive telecasts, each of which will be shown locally.

In Philadelphia, WPHL TV, Channel 17, will carry the bulk of the Phillies broadcasts with 82. Harry Kalas, Richie Ashburn, Chris Wheeler and Andy Musser return to bring you the action in their 17th season together.

Also, the Phillies have two cable networks, SportsChannel Philadelphia and PRISM, to bring an additional 65 games to your television.

SportsChannel Philadelphia is back for their fifth season, televising 25 games, 14 from the Vet and 11 on the road. Musser and Kent Tekulve will team up for their third full season together.

PRISM will add 40 games, all from Veterans Stadium, to the schedule. Wheeler and Garry Maddox have a new partner this season as Todd Kalas joins the crew.

Todd, the eldest son of Harry Kalas, worked for the New York Mets the past two seasons. Prior to that he did play-by-play for the Louisville Cardinals (St. Louis' triple-A team) and has also handled some Phillies spring training broadcasts in Clearwater, FL for Vision Cable.

The addition of the three ESPN telecasts and the Baseball Network to the Phillies local broadcasts, means just one thing ... all but one Phillies game will be televised this season.

The lone exclusion is Friday, September 9, a 3:20 p.m. game in Chicago. Because it is an NBC date, no other television may take place that day.

All 162 games will be broadcast over the airwaves on WGMP AM-1210. Harry Kalas, Ashburn, Wheeler and Musser will do the honors.

In addition to the game broadcast, WGMP AM-1210 is expanding its "Talkin' Baseball" show with host, Scott Graham. The show is increasing from five to seven days a week, prior to each Phillies broadcast. It will also be rebroadcast following each game.
